State set to induct 206 'Scene of Crime Officers'

Recruits undergoing training at National Forensic Sciences University and Central Forensic Science Laboratory

Bengaluru, Feb. 24 (KMS & BCT)- Two years after the announcement of appointing 'Scene of Crime Officers' who will be responsible for gathering crucial evidence from crime spots, the State Government is all set to induct 206 officers, who are currently being trained at the National Forensic Sciences University in Gandhinagar, Gujarat and Central Forensic Science Laboratory in Hyderabad.

Making an announcement regarding the induction of Crime Scene Officers across the State, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra told the Assembly yesterday that the Scene of Crime Officers (SoCOs) will be the first-of-its-kind initiative where a dedicated section of civilian experts will take over the responsibilities of securing a crime scene.

They will have the responsibility of collecting forensic evidence and storing them and they are a team of experts guiding the Police in handling evidence at the scene of the crime. They will identify, collect, handle and most importantly preserve evidence from the spot. They will be attached to the jurisdictional Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) and they are scientific officers specially trained to handle sensitive evidence.

File photo of Police and forensic experts collecting crucial evidence at the spot of crime in Manasagangothri on Nov. 5, 2022, following the alleged murder of former Intelligence Bureau (IB) Officer R.N. Kulkarni on Nov. 4.

Government sources said that currently, 206 SoCOs who are undergoing training will join the Karnataka State Police Force in the first half of 2023. With their inclusion, chances of errors in collecting and handling evidence from the crime scene will become less and the Police investigators will be able to focus on their probe.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The Rural Health Statistics 2021-22 report, released by the government recently, presents a dismal picture of the healthcare infrastructure in the country. The annual report provides data on health infrastructure, including manpower, as at the end of the financial year. These reports have been very useful and they have provided valuable guidance. They have helped to monitor the progress in the health sector with comprehensive information on all aspects of its functioning. Along with reports on other sectors, it has helped to identify the deficiencies in the present system in rural, urban, and tribal sections. The latest report shows that the rural healthcare system continues to be seriously plagued by shortfalls on two critical fronts — doctors and infrastructure. These are the two basic and most important parts of any healthcare system and inadequacies in them would seriously impact outcomes in the sector. There is a big shortage of medical staff at all health centres. In Community Health Centres, the shortfall is of the order of 83 per cent for surgeons, 82 per cent for paediatricians, and 79 per cent for general physicians.

At every level, the system is unable to take care of the people who need care and depend on it. The statistics show that the right lessons have not been learnt from the COVID-19 pandemic. It is true that human infrastructure cannot be improved in the short term. But there should be no slackness in efforts to do so over the medium term. The country needs more medical personnel in all categories and it is important that they are incentivised to serve in rural areas. When most people of the country live in rural areas, which are not served by private hospitals, it is the government's responsibility to ensure that people get the right medical facilities. Rural health is the standard of the health of the nation.

A vibrating pill for constipation treatment

New York: Vibrant is a smart ingestible capsule that vibrates inside your intestines to mechanically stimulate the colon and increase the frequency of bowel movements without the use of drugs.

Chronic idiopathic constipation sufferers struggle to find relief even with strong laxative therapies and eventually have to undergo uncomfortable medical procedures to clear their colon. Luckily, they now have a drug-free alternative in the form of a vibrating capsule.

"The pills stimulate specialized nerve cells in the gut called mechanosensory cells," Ben Feldman, chief marketing officer at Vibrant Gastro said. "These help trigger peristalsis, the undulating muscle contractions that help squeeze food through the gut. The pre-programmed timing of the mechanical stimulation is thought to improve colonic motility by leveraging the body's biological clock," Ben added.

Nervous boy faints when amongst girls

Bihar Sharif: A 17-year-old boy was so incredibly nervous about being the only male in an exam room full of hundreds of girls that he simply passed out.

Case in point, Manish Shankar Prasad, a shy 17-year-old boy from Allama Iqbal College in Bihar Sharif, was supposed to take his mathematics test in Sundergarh at the end of last month. He never got the opportunity to do so, as he lost consciousness after finding himself surrounded by around 500 girls in an exam hall.

It has yet to be determined if Manish Shankar Prasad suffers from gynophobia, the irrational fear of women or if he is simply just incredibly shy, but one thing is for sure: he needed some time to recover after the incident, and he didn't take the exam the next week either.

VOICE OF THE READER

Thank You 'SOM' for Special Issue

Sir,

The Anniversary Special Issue of 'Star of Mysore' is eagerly looked forward to by the readers, who would be wondering what new topic of interest will it contain to savour it at leisure in its 46th year issue (SOM dated Feb. 16, 2023).

As an avid reader of your Eveninger, I await the delivery boy coming with lot of expectation. The first thing I do is to rapidly scan to find out the type of articles to decide which one I should take up to read.

The other equally attractive feature is the number of colourful advertisements so attractively displayed. Of course, the cartoon under 'Editor's Bottomline' never fails to amuse.

The primacy given to the heritage under 'Securing Royal Legacy' in centre spread is quite appropriate. The other two articles that caught my interest were one about 'Family of Doctors' which was an amazing story and another was 'The Sunshine Lady,' an inspiring human saga. Thank you 'SOM.'

Resolve to have BJP MLA in every seat: B.L. Santhosh tells workers

BJP National General Secretary (Organisation) B.L. Santhosh, MP Pratap Simha, MLAs S.A. Ramdas, L. Nagendra and N. Mahesh, Mayor Shivakumar, BJP State Vice-President M. Rajendra, BJP Rural President Mangala Somashekar and others seen during the inauguration of the meeting of heads of Shakti Kendras at Dasara Exhibition Grounds in city yesterday.

Mysuru, Feb.24 (SBD&BS)- BJP National General Secretary (Organisation) B.L. Santhosh has given a call to the party workers to work with a resolve to have the party (BJP) MLA in every Constituency, irrespective of the candidate, as it is impossible to get the ticket by parading the supporters.

Santhosh addressed a meeting of heads of Shakti Kendras of BJP Mysuru City and Rural Units, organised at Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) Ground in city yesterday.

Santhosh said that "In another 70 days general elections will be over, hence we should not be sceptical over our strength. We should come out of the stand that 'myself or those recommended by me should be given ticket.' It is not possible to obtain the ticket on the numbers of acolytes."

"S.A. Ramdas is the MLA of Krishnaraja Constituency and L. Nagendra is the MLA of Chamaraja Constituency, but still even others can stake claim for ticket. They can start working in this regard and speak a few good words about them. Better avoid speaking ill about the sitting MLAs by chiding them as 'Kalla (thief) Sulla (Liar)'. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, though won the elections (Lok Sabha) by a margin of 4.5 lakh votes from Vadodara Constituency in Gujarat (in 2014) and was a safe seat, Modi later switched over to Varanasi Lok Sabha Constituency in the next election. He (Modi) never thought about rivals. However, in Karnataka a situation was created when he had to turn back on the cusp of majority. Hence, the party workers should take elections as a challenge and unitedly work towards the victory," said Santhosh in his call to the party workers.

Workers decisive

BJP is firmly stepping towards success on the right chord. Let anybody go anywhere for ticket and anybody get the ticket, our party men should be elected as MLA. All including MPs, MLAs and district office-bearers have a role to play here, but still we should not forget that the workers are decisive. Even though the party lacked prominent leaders in the State, BJP had won in Mysuru. There is an example of working for the cause of the party symbol. Even when the party candidate in Ramanagar Assembly segment resigned from the fray during 2018 election, some of the workers there, without losing their heart had strove. Hence, BJP wins due to workers, not by any prominent leaders, said Santhosh.

Union Minister of Education, Skill Development and Entrepreneurship Dharmendra Pradhan and BJP Tamil Nadu President K. Annamalai have been deputed as election in-charges and Vijaya Sankalpa Yatre and Booth Vijaya Abhiyana have been successfully conducted. National President of the party and Home Minister have also participated in several programmes, said Santhosh.

Referring to Opposition parties criticising Prime Minister Narendra Modi's frequent visits to the State, Santhosh said "Yes, Modi is the senior leader of the party and visits during the election time and other times too. He tours for the progress of the country, but some fly abroad for other reasons. BJP is not in a situation of lagging behind Congress. Do not remove the party flag from your houses till the election results. Organise the programmes of other workers joining the party at every Taluk Panchayat and Grama Panchayat limits like a movement," said Santhosh in his call to party workers.

City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa, Rural BJP President Mangala Somashekar, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, MLAs S. A. Ramdas and L. Nagendra, MLCs Suja Kushalappa and Tulsi Muniraju Gowda, Mayor Shivakumar, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, BJP State Vice-President M. Rajendra, former MP C. H. Vijayashankar, former MLCs Thontadarya and C. Ramesh, former MLA Dr. Bharathi Shankar, former Mayor Sandesh Swamy, M. V. Ravishankar, Hirendra Shah, Ashwath Narayan and Devanur Prathap and others were present.

Farmers picket DC Office at Mandya

Mandya, Feb. 24- Seeking fulfillment of their various demands, which chiefly included fixation of FRP (Fair and Remunerative Price) for Sugarcane at Rs. 4,500 per tonne and Milk Procurement price at Rs. 40 per litre, thousands of farmers picketed the Mandya Deputy Commissioner's (DC's) Office here on Thursday.

Thousands of farmers, along with bullock carts and tractors converged at Sir M. Visvesvaraya statue and went in a procession to the DC Office, and succeeded in picketing the Office. The protesting farmers who parked their bullock carts and tractors in the DC Office premises, raised slogans against the Government and the authorities for failing to address the demands of the farmers.

The demands included withdrawal of the newly introduced three farm laws, amendments made to the APMC Act, Anti-Cow Slaughter Bill and Amended Electricity Act. The other demands included announcement of FRP for sugarcane at Rs. 4,500 per tonne, SAP (State Advisory Price) of Rs. 10,500 per quintal for cotton, Rs. 19,000 per quintal for copra and Rs. 6,500 per quintal for toor dhal, Rs. 500 financial assistance per quintal for paddy for growers of all districts, among others.

As a few farmers barged through to the DC Office after succeeding in breaking the Police barricades, tension prevailed at the spot for some time as the farmers entered into a verbal duel with the Police. Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) State President Badagalapura Nagendra, KRRS Mandya District President A.L. Kempugowda, Sunitha Puttannaiah, Darshan Puttanaiah, former ZP President Taggahalli Venkatesh and others took part.

State-level Bouddha Mahasammelan in Mysuru on Feb. 26

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (PM&DM)- The State Unit of Bharatiya Bouddha Mahasabha will be organising a one-day State-level Mahasammelan (Mega Convention) at Lalitha Mahal Palace Grounds in Mysuru on Feb. 26.

Announcing this at a press meet here yesterday, Chamarajanagar's Nalanda University's Bodhidatta Bantheji said that Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's grandson Dr. Bhimarao Yashwantrao Ambedkar, who is also the Working President of the Bharatiya Bouddha Mahasabha, will inaugurate the convention by garlanding the statue of Dr. Ambedkar at the Town Hall premises at 9 am, following which the Samatha Sainik Dal will take out 'Dhamma Nadige' (Rally) to Lalitha Mahal Palace Grounds, where the convention will take place at 11.30 am.

The rally will pass through Chamaraja Wadiyar Circle, Albert Victor Road, Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle and other roads to reach the venue. The convention features a couple of Buddha Dhamma discourses, followed by a Buddha Sahityagoshti at 3.30 pm and staging of play 'Devanampriya Ashoka' at 6 pm, he said.

Pointing out that this is for the first time that such a convention is being held in Mysuru, Bantheji said that over 10,000 people are expected to take part in the convention, which is aimed at sending out a message that India is the land of the Buddha and to propagate the ideals of Buddhism. Many Buddhist monks from across the State too will take part in the event, he added.

Former Mayor Purushotham and Gandhinagar Urilingapeddi Mutt Seer Jnanaprakash Swamiji too spoke.

The Mahasabha's State General Secretary Shivaraj, District President Dr. Jagannath and member K.R. Gopalakrishna were present at the press meet.

Hair donation drive for cancer patients
by Mysore Amity Ladies Circle-108
'Hair for Hope' initiative from Feb. 25 - Mar. 15

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (PM&KS)- Mysore Amity Ladies Circle-108 (MALC-108), in association with Kimaya Beauty Studio, has organised 'Hair for Hope' initiative, a hair donation drive for cancer patients from tomorrow in city.

Addressing a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, MALC-108 Chairperson Aparna Ranga said that the hair donation drive will be held from Feb. 25 till Mar. 15 and added that through this initiative, the Mysore Amity Ladies Circle aims to inspire individuals to donate their healthy hair to help cancer patients.

"Mysore Amity Ladies Circle believes that donating hair is a kind and generous notion for all those who want to give something back to society to show that they truly care and empathise with those suffering. In the course of the Hair for Hope initiative, 12 inches of hair are collected from participants and sent to a charity that makes wigs and supports cancer patients in need. By our initiative to collect hair from individuals and our collaboration with organisations that produce wigs for cancer patients, we intend to contribute in a small way to this cause by giving wigs to the patients who are fighting cancer," Aparna Ranga stated.

"Mysore Amity Ladies Circle has participated in a variety of charitable activities aimed at improving society. In addition to building classrooms and bathroom blocks and supplying study materials, we also contribute to causes such as cancer treatment and women empowerment," she said.

MALC-108 Treasurer Anusha, Project Convenor Sahana, Co-Project Convenor Sampada and Publicity Convenor Priyanka were present at the press meet. Those interested in donating hair for a cause may visit Kimaya Beauty Studio in Jayalakshmipuram or contact Ph: 0821-4266616 or Mob: 70225-54243.

65 percent of Rayanakere
Solid Waste Plant complete

Once the Kesare and Rayanakere plants become operational, the Solid Waste Management Unit (Excel Plant) at Sewage Farm premises in Vidyaranyapuram which emanates an unbearable stench will be permanently closed. Over 500 tonnes of waste is generated in the city daily.

The setting up of new plants comes after years of struggle and campaigns by thousands of residents living around Vidyaranyapuram, who had to invariably suffer because of the lack of will and resolve and funds to clear over 7 lakh tonnes of legacy waste rotting in the vicinity of their residential areas.

The Mayor was accompanied by Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Corporator Ashwini Ananthu, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Superintending Engineer Mahesh, Executive Engineer Madhusudhan, MCC Zone-3 Development Officer Satyamurthy, Assistant Engineer Rajath and other officials.

Seeking divine intervention to find a 'match made in heaven'
Bachelors walk to M.M. Hills

Bharathinagar, Feb. 24 (Satish &BCT)- Over 70 bachelors, aged above 30, from K.M. Doddi village near Mandya have begun a three-day 'Brahmacharigala Padayatre' (bachelors' march) to Male Mahadeshwara Temple (M.M. Hills) in Chamarajanagar seeking God's help in finding a match for their marriage.

The march was flagged off by Kannada actor Daali Dhananjaya in the wee hours of yesterday from Shri Lakshmi Venkateshwara Temple, K.M. Doddi. These men say that they have been forced to remain single as no girl is willing to tie the knot with them as they hail from agrarian families and are settled in villages though they have vast lands and fields.

"All girls prefer men who are well educated and are settled in cities. Moreover, the craze to obtain a male child has decreased the population of women and we are seeing the effects of that change now. The population of girls is limited and most of the girls who have reached the marriage age are migrating to either Mysuru or Bengaluru in search of jobs and city-based grooms," 33-year-old D.P. Mallesh, one of the organisers, said.

Even parents of the girls, also from agrarian families, feel that a farmer's income is not enough for a man to lead a comfortable life. The parents feel that marrying their daughters to men from the city will secure their future as they have a stable income working in a Government or private firm, the bachelors complained.

The men, accompanied by loudspeaker-attached publicity vehicles, flags and posters, will cover 105 km on foot to reach M.M. Hills on Feb. 25. In his address, actor Dhananjaya pointed out the lack of brides for young farmers who live in villages and are engaged in farming. Many bachelor boys have large tracts of land and gain good income. Still, they are unable to find brides, he regretted.

"It is unfortunate that the craze to beget male children for many decades has resulted in this trend now. All want male babies and, in this situation, where will they go in search of brides when they reach marriage age," he questioned.

This padayatra should create awareness about the challenges being faced by youths involved in farming, he added. What began as a small idea among a group of friends became a huge campaign through social media, attracting many bachelors.

"We have started with 70 men and we are expecting over 250 men when we reach the M.M. Hills as not only Mandya, many villages of the region are experiencing a dearth of girls," said K.M. Shivaprasad, another bachelor and the walkathon organiser.

"We want to drive home the point that the male-female sex ratio is important for a healthy society. Many men, who remain bachelors even after crossing 30 years of age, are a depressed lot and they become objects of ridicule. While some are driven to suicide, many run away to cities unable to bear the family pressure to find a girl," Shivaprasad said.

"It's not just marriage, some men are seeking good fortune and a good harvest, while there are others who are seeking God's help to resolve personal troubles," he added.

'Scene of Crime Officers'

Responding to a question raised by MLA R. Narendra, the Home Minister said they are taking several measures to ensure better investigation and improvement in conviction rate.

"Earlier, cases were coming up for trials after three years due to various reasons, including delays in getting the forensic science laboratory reports. To address that concern, the government increased the number of forensic science labs," he said.

"When rape or murder cases are reported, a Sub-Inspector goes to the spot and collects evidence. But now we are making an attempt to collect evidence through experts, which is why we will be inducting 206 SoCOs. In the coming days, the State Government will depute one SOCO in each taluk," he said.

The SoCOs will specialise in forensic science as well as in the identification, collection and preservation of evidence at the scene of the crime. They have to identify, record and collect evidence at the crime scene. They will assist investigation officers by providing crucial evidence material. The Department also strengthened teams investigating cybercrimes. "Our officers file FIR and submit chargesheet, but if there is no conviction, Police are disappointed. This also encourages criminals," Araga Jnanendra added.

The Home Department data shows the number of crimes, especially those registered under Indian Penal Code (IPC), went up by 14,000 every year in the last three years, while the increase was around 4,000 in cases registered under Special Local Laws (SLL) and Cyber Crimes, said the Home Minister.

Hand over land already acquired

The remaining expanse of land, yet to be acquired, will be used to divert the Mysuru-Nanjangud Highway up to one kilometre to facilitate the runway extension. This is because the alignment of the runway and the Highway bisect each other.

Earlier, a 500-metre to 600-metre-long underpass was proposed on Mysuru-Nanjangud Highway and NHAI was to take up the project at a cost of Rs. 700 crore. Now the underpass idea has been dropped and instead, a part of the Highway (up to one kilometre) will be diverted near Marase after the land acquisition. As the land includes various plantations and is riddled with legal disputes, the Horticulture Department has been involved to fix the compensation for plantations. Mysore Airport Director R. Manjunath, KIADB Special Land Acquisition Officer V. Priyadarshini, KIADB Development Officer Murthy and others attended the meeting.

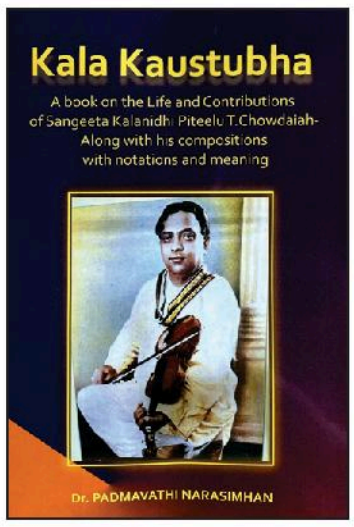
'Kala Kaustubha,' a book on the life and contribution of legendary violinist Mysore T. Chowdiah

Kala Kaustubha', a book on the life and contributions of Sangeetha Kalanidhi Mysore T. Chowdiah, his compositions with notations and photographs, authored by SOM music critic Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan will be released at a programme to be held on Sunday, 26th February at Nityotsava Convention Centre, Krishnamurthypuram, at 11 am. Renowned musician Chitraveena N. Ravikiran will release the book. Senior mridangist A.V. Anand will preside. Dr. Anasuya Kulkarni, senior disciple of T. Chowdiah, will speak about the book. Prior to the book release event, Vidu. Jyotsna Manjunath, who is the only seven stringed violinist today, will give a violin recital at 10.30 am.

Tirumakudalu Chowdiah was a gifted violinist and a legend in the realm of Karnatak music. He was at the forefront of establishing a bridge between musicians of the Mysore State and Madras (Chennai). When the Chowdiah Memorial Hall in Bangalore, built in the shape of a violin, was named after him, it was for the first time a musician in India had received such an honour.



Kala Kaustubha
A book on the Life and Contributions of Sangeeta Kalanidhi Piteelu T.Chowdaiah-
Along with his compositions with notations and meaning
Dr. PADMAVATHI NARASIMHAN

Born to Agastye Gowda and Sundaramma in Tirumakudalu, a town 30 kms from Mysuru where the rivers Kaveri and Kapila merge, Chowdiah's childhood was spent on the banks of these rivers, in the lush green fields and in the temples of Agasthyeshwara and Narasimha. Chowdiah learnt music from Gaanavisharada Bidaram Krishnappa, a vocalist and composer, who was an Asthana Vidwan (court musician) of the Mysore Royal Court.

His first public appearance, at the age of 17, was purely by chance as the violinist intended for the concert failed to turn up. Bidaram Krishnappa asked Chowdiah to accompany him on stage and he rose to the occasion and made a mark. From then on, Chowdiah was a regular accompanist to leading vocalists of the day. During a concert in Madras in early 1920, Chowdiah accompanied the leading vocalist of the day, Ariyakudi Ramanuja Iyengar, with his guru amongst the audience. Thereafter, he accompanied maestros like Chembai Vaidyanatha Bhagavathar, Musiri Subramaniya Iyer, Maharajapuram Viswanatha Iyer, G.N. Balasubramaniam, Alathur Brothers and others. Chowdiah's dedication and devotion towards Karnatak music made him a renowned violinist. Under the guidance of his guru, he reached great heights. In addition to being a sought-after accompanist, Chowdiah was a soloist as well and his concerts attracted large crowds.

Innovative artiste

During concerts, he observed that people who sat in the back rows could not hear his recital properly and this was due to the fact that during his time, sound amplification devices were non-existent. To overcome this shortcoming, he developed an innovative idea and added three more strings to his four-stringed violin, and began to practice on it. From then onwards in all his concerts he used his improvised violin.

His guru however was unaware about Chowdiah's endeavour. Eventually when his guru discovered his innovation, he was reportedly very angry. However on Veena Seshanna's intervention his guru relented and later appreciated Chowdiah's innovation. The sonorous sound of the seven-stringed violin gave volume to the concert, which was in part responsible for making Chowdiah a sought-after accompanist to the stalwarts.

Administrator, composer

His guru nurtured a wish to open a higher institute of music and in order to fulfill his guru's wishes, Chowdiah established the Ayyanar College of Music with the help and support of K. Puttu Rao. The College has trained hundreds of exceptional vocalists and instrumentalists and even blind students over the years. The College functioned out of the premises of Bidaram Krishnappa's Prasanna Seetha Rama Mandira, the construction of which Chowdiah helped complete. He produced a film, Vani (1943) in which he acted in a dual role and for which he also directed the music.

Chowdiah composed nearly 50 compositions, mainly krithis and thillanas, under the pen name Trimakuta. The compositions are in Kannada, Telugu and Sanskrit languages and in well-known ragas. He was awarded the prestigious Sangeetha Kalanidhi title by the Madras Music Academy in 1957. He was awarded the Fellowship of the Central Sangeet Natak Akademi in the same year. Chowdiah passed away in 1967 at age 72. He remains one of the greatest musicians of Karnataka, and indeed one of the great legends of Karnatak classical music.

Till date, there have only been two books on the compositions of T. Chowdiah. First of these is a publication of the University of Mysore, edited by Chowdiah's prime disciple Prof. V. Ramaratnam and the second publication is by another disciple Dr. Anasuya Kulkarni. Both these books are in Kannada. The need of the hour is that his compositions reach the global audience. It is hoped that 'Kala Kaustubha', containing the English notations of the compositions and his life, serves to fill this gap and reaches students, aspirants and connoisseurs all over the world.

'Kala Kaustubha', authored by Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan, includes the life and biography of T. Chowdiah with interesting anecdotes and some rare photographs, a detailed description of his innovation — the seven stringed violin — the violinists who played the seven stringed violin during Chowdiah's period and afterwards and an elaborate analysis of each of his 33 available compositions with notations. All the compositions are given with meaning and notations. The readers who are curious about the literary value of the compositions can look into the meanings. Students of music and musicians can learn the compositions and present them on platforms. It is hoped that the book serves the interest of a wide range of music enthusiasts.—OSR

A.V. Anand

Dr. Anasuya Kulkarni

Vidushi Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan,

who has done her Ph.D on the life and contributions of T. Chowdiah, has authored an authentic book on the life and compositions of Chowdiah. She has studied the compositions in depth and explained in a simple way so that any reader can easily understand her analysis. Her analysis of compositions provides a fine window to understand the depth of Chowdiah's knowledge of lyrics, Ragas and Talas. As she has chosen to present this monumental work in English, it can reach sangeetha rasikas globally."

Valentine's Day at Apollo BGS Hospitals

Organ donors share stories of struggle and hope

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (KS)- Giving a part of yourself is the ultimate gift of love that one can give to a loved one. To celebrate this gesture, Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, on Valentine's Day, invited organ donors, who had given a part of themselves to their loved ones. They shared their stories of struggle and the hope that organ donation brought into their lives while the recipients shared the second chance they got to live through their family member's love in donating organs.

Among the donors were a couple, 56-year-old Annapoorna, who donated her organ to her husband, 64-year-old Kumar, thus giving him a new lease of life. Another young couple, 34-year-old Kavitha, came forward to donate her organ to her husband Gnanesh. These couples have defined the true meaning of unconditional love towards their partners.

In another example, a mother, Shantakumari came forward to donate her organ to her 26-year-old son Naveen Kumar, which she defined as akin to giving rebirth to him. One of the donors, a paternal aunt, Thajun donated her organ to save the life of her 16-year-old nephew Afroz. These donors have exhibited that the true meaning of love is in giving Life to another.

Dr. Rajkumar P. Wadhwa, Consultant Gastroenterologist and HoD, Institute of Gastroenterology, said that organ donors were real-life heroes and encouraged the audience to take up the noble act of donating organs that can save lives.

Dr. Srinivas Nalloor, Chief Consultant Nephrologist & Head, Department of Nephrology, explained the improved quality of life that chronic kidney disease patients can have through transplants which is a better option for those with organ failure.

Bharateesha Reddy, Unit Head and Vice-President, Apollo BGS Hospitals, commended the Apollo Transplants team for clinical expertise in making the transplant programme highly successful and giving hope to hundreds of patients suffering from end-stage organ failure. Apollo Hospitals is a Licensed Multiorgan Transplant Centre that has been at the forefront of Organ transplants in this region.

An Apollo Whole Body Checkup programme was launched on the occasion. Dr. Yashwanth Kumar, Consultant Hepato Biliary and Liver Transplant Surgeon, Dr. Praveen Chandrashekhar, Consultant Nephrologist, Dr. Aathira Ravindranath, Consultant Paediatric Gastroenterology and others were present.
